

Please do not implement any proposal that would lessen the effectiveness of Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. I have gone from 4 to 7 unwanted calls a day to 1 or 2 per quarter.

I pay to have a telephone in my home for my convenience, not for telemarketers to harass me incessantly. I cannot believe the people attempting to defeat the purpose and effectiveness of this consumer protection actually enjoy getting these types of calls and interruptions in their homes.

Imagine having your home phone number available in a database. Now imagine receiving hundreds of unsolicited, irritating calls interrupting your homelife annually. How long would it take you to add your information to a no call list?
